

For the first of Sunwait We light the candle of Fehu.

Fehu is wealth and abundance. In the twilight of the year, we extend gifts, whether small or large, to ignite hope and joy in the hearts of others.

Wealth should never stagnate or be hidden away; it is meant to flow, to grow, and to inspire change—much like cattle roaming the fields.

Audhumla bestowed abundance and sustained the dawn of creation, reminding us that sharing prosperity multiplies our blessings rather than diminishing them.
